Jonathan Cichon (holding the lobster), executive chef of Lacroix at the Rittenhouse restaurant, spent some quality time with French counterpart Eric Hubert (rear).

For three days this week, chef Eric Hubert, who owns two restaurants in the city of Lyon, France, enjoyed cooking in the kitchen of Lacroix at the Rittenhouse as part of the nearly monthlong Philadelphia International Festival of the Arts (PIFA). Lacroix's executive chef Jonathan Cichon, like several Center City chefs, is playing gracious host.
